

SCOTTISH NORTH DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIPS

Inverness

BEN LIVESEY made a dramatic debut for Forres Harriers when he won the senior men's title, Fraser Clyne reports.

The serviceman, who was recently posted to RAF Lossiemouth, outpaced youngsters Andrew Clark and Kyle Greig over a muddy six-mile course to win by more than 100m. Clark took the U20 age-group prize when finishing in second position overall.

Greig, who made a late decision to run for his club rather than for Aberdeen in the Scottish Universities championships, was rewarded by helping Forres lift the team title for the third time in four seasons.

Dave Adam (eighth), Paul Rogan (ninth), Andy Ross (10th) and David Armour (13th) were the other scorers for the winning side.

Brian Foreman won the M40 title when finishing fifth overall while his clubmate George Sim collected the M50 award for the fifth year in a row.

Former Scottish triathlon international Eleanor Reid won in impressive style and led her club to the team title for the 10th year in a row. Katy Boocock (fourth) and Fiona Dahl (seventh) were the other counters for the successful Inverness side.
